

Tour Two

Now we are nearing the south east corner of the Quad where we find that the fine arts are alive and well. This is the Center for the Performing Arts with its 500 seat theatre and an 800 seat concert hall that rank among the best such facilities in the Midwest And anchoring the south corner and home to the Schools of Art, Music, and Theatre, are the Centennial East and West Buildings and the Center for the Visual Arts. Here also are the University Galleries, very active exhibitions.
